

Computing quantile curves
on training data

Using quantile curves as a template = set of threshold families

Choosing a threshold family on inference data